

Read about how gamers work together to help their communities

THE ~~UNCENSORED~~ LIBRARY

In many countries, websites, social media and blogs are controlled by oppressive leaders. Reporters Without Borders has created a library within Minecraft to bypass internet censorship and provide access to independent information to young people around the world.

Games Done Quick is a series of charity fundraising events where gamers participate in speedrunning games while raising money for various charitable organizations. To date, GDQ events have raised millions of dollars for organizations such as Doctors Without Borders, Prevent Cancer Foundation, and the AbleGamers Charity.

Games for Change is a nonprofit organization that provides support, visibility, and shared resources to individuals and organizations using serious games for social change. They host an annual Games for Change Festival to showcase games and projects that tackle important issues, such as education, health, human rights, and environmental sustainability. Games for Change also offers resources, tools, and workshops to help game developers and educators incorporate social impact themes into their projects.

Level Up